New content added to the SAGE Full-Text Collections

Thousand Oaks, CA and London, UK (July 5, 2005) — SAGE Publications’ award-winning, full-text database, Criminology: A SAGE Full-Text Collection, is being enhanced this month by the addition of four new titles. Georgia State University’s Criminal Justice Review and International Criminal Justice Review, the European Society of Criminology’s European Journal of Criminology, and Crime, Media, Culture (a new SAGE title) are being added.

Named one of the “Best Reference Sources” by Library Journal, Criminology: A SAGE Full-Text Collection now includes the full text of 21 journals published by SAGE and participating societies, encompassing over 5,000 articles and up to 29 years of backfiles. The Collection covers such subjects as criminal justice, juvenile delinquency, juvenile justice, corrections, penology, policing, forensic psychology, and domestic violence.

Three other SAGE Full-Text Collections have been enhanced by the addition of new titles. Communication Studies: A SAGE Full-Text Collection now includes Global Media and Communication. Education: A SAGE Full-Text Collection includes Improving Schools, International Journal of Music Education, and Psychology of Music. The official publication of the American Association for Correctional and Forensic Psychology, Criminal Justice and Behavior, has been added to Psychology: A SAGE Full-Text Collection.

“The addition of these seven titles makes these Collections even more valuable,” said Blaise Simqu, President and CEO of SAGE. “Our goal is to provide a rich and easy-to-use environment for researchers and students with the most up-to-date and complete content possible. These added titles definitely further that goal.”
