FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SAGE CONTENT NOW AVAILABLE AT CAUL LIBRARIES

Los Angeles, London, New Delhi, and Singapore (August 9, 2007) – SAGE and the Council of Australian University Librarians (CAUL) have signed a three-year agreement offering member institutions electronic access to over 450 journals published by SAGE.

Through this agreement, 75 institutions in CAUL’s Electronic Information Resources Committee (CEIRC) program will be eligible to access SAGE Premier, one of the largest collections in the social sciences, including an extensive list of science, technology and medical titles. Access is provided SAGE Journals Online, SAGE’s online journal delivery platform, and includes backfile content to 1999.

“CAUL aims to facilitate access to the latest cutting-edge research for its members,” commented Eve Woodberry, President, at CAUL, “and we are very pleased to be adding SAGE content to our collection of digital resources.”

“As the world’s leading independent social science publisher, with a growing presence in the Scientific, Technical, and Medical field, SAGE offers a wealth of important knowledge, all available on an easy-to-access platform,” added, Steve Golden, Managing Director, of the SAGE Asia-Pacific office. “We’re delighted CAUL members can now benefit from access to the latest high quality peer-reviewed content in the SAGE Premier.”

###

SAGE is a leading international publisher of journals, books, and electronic media for academic, educational, and professional markets. Since 1965, SAGE has helped inform and educate a global community of scholars, practitioners, researchers, and students spanning a wide range of subject areas including business, humanities, social sciences, and science, technology and medicine. An independent company, SAGE has principal offices in Los Angeles, London, New Delhi, and Singapore.

www.sagepublications.com

CAUL, the Council of Australian University Librarians, supports its members in the achievement of their institutional objectives, especially the provision of access to, and training in the use of, scholarly information, leadership in the management of information and contribution to the university experience. A major program, CEIRC, facilitates purchasing by CAUL’s 39 members and another 37 affiliated universities, higher education institutions, government departments and research organisations in Australia and New Zealand.

http://www.caul.edu.au/