SAGE CELEBRATES 500TH JOURNAL ADDED TO THE SAGE JOURNALS ONLINE PLATFORM

Los Angeles, London, New Delhi, and Singapore (June 17, 2008) – SAGE, the world’s leading independent academic journals publisher, celebrates a milestone this month with the launch of its 500th journal site on the SAGE Journals Online platform. The 500th journal site was for the Journal of Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition (JPEN), now published by SAGE on behalf of the American Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition (A.S.P.E.N.).

SAGE Journals Online, powered by HighWire Press, was recently named “2007 Best Platform” by the Professional and Scholarly Publishing division of the Association of American Publishers.

“We launched our platform in September 2004 and have since added more than 170 journal sites,” said Jayne Marks, SAGE Vice President of Global Journals Business Development. “This represents the hard work of dozens of committed SAGE publishing professional around the world. More than 245 societies such as A.S.P.E.N. are placing their trust in us to provide their journals with the best possible online platform.”

SAGE Journals Online is a comprehensive search platform containing robust, database features such as advanced, fielded Boolean searching, thesaurus search and browse, search history, marked citations, COUNTER-compliant usage statistics, and Web 2.0 features such as social bookmarking and RSS feeds. Coupled with journal content going back to volume 1, issue 1, SAGE Journals Online provides users access to one of the largest databases of Social Science, Humanities, and Science, Technical, and Medical content in the world.
