SAGE TO PUBLISH LEADING INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS JOURNAL *MILLENNIUM

Los Angeles, London, New Delhi, and Singapore – (January 21, 2008) SAGE, the world's fifth largest journals publisher today announced a partnership with the Millennium Publishing House to publish their prestigious International Relations (IR) journal, Millennium: Journal of International Studies starting in August 2008.

A highly influential and globally acclaimed journal, Millennium has built a strong reputation for being the home for post-positivist IR research. According to a recent TRIP survey of scholars, Millennium stands as one of the top fifteen IR publications in terms of impact on the discipline. Based at the London School of Economics and Political Science's (LSE) Department of IR, Millennium has been a postgraduate-run journal since its inception in 1971, maintaining a high professional standard and a reputation for publishing innovative work by both young scholars and established figures in the field.

A market leader in International Relations, SAGE currently publishes four of the top fifteen ISI-ranked International Relations journals. Millennium joins a distinguished list that includes Journal of Conflict Resolution, Journal of Peace Research, European Journal of International Relations, and Security Dialogue.

"Millennium is one of the leading journals in the field of IR, and exemplifies rigorous research and innovative thinking," commented Prof. Christopher Coker, Head of the IR Department at LSE. "SAGE in turn has been at the forefront of publishing international social science journals for over 40 years. With its strong presence in the social sciences and its reputation for publishing high quality content, this new partnership holds great promise."

"SAGE aims to be the natural home for authors, editors and societies, providing them with a partnership that places quality and strong relationships above all else," added Ziyad Marar, SAGE's Publishing Director. "We're delighted to be working with a journal so closely aligned to SAGE's own goal of championing challenging and agenda-setting material in the social sciences."

Since 1971, Millennium: Journal of International Studies has published the most innovative international studies articles, as well as original thinking from elsewhere in the social sciences with an international dimension. Interdisciplinary and wide-ranging in scope, the peer-reviewed journal provides a forum for discussion on the latest developments in the theory of international relations, particularly encouraging contributions from research students and young academics, as well as from established scholars.
