FOUR SAGE REFERENCE TITLES INCLUDED IN LIBRARY JOURNAL'S BEST REFERENCE 2008
TITLES CHOSEN IN FOUR DIFFERENT CATEGORIES

Los Angeles, London, New Delhi, Singapore and Washington, DC (May 1, 2009)—SAGE Reference titles continue to receive rave reviews and awards. Four key titles were included in Library Journal's annual Best Reference feature announced this month.

The Library Journal Best Reference list honors the top reference titles that have been reviewed in the journal in the year previous. The titles reflect a wide diversity of subjects, and SAGE is honored to have four of its encyclopedias recognized by the library community. Each title is from a different category, clearly representing SAGE Reference's growing and diverse list of significant reference resources in the social sciences, health, business, and science.

The four honored SAGE Reference titles include the following:

- CURRENT EVENTS – Encyclopedia of Political Communication
“From articles on advocacy advertising to the political uses of the World Wide Web, this work's nearly 600 articles explore the themes of political communication from books, films, and other media.”
- SOCIAL SCIENCES – Encyclopedia of Counseling: Changes and Challenges for Counseling in the 21st Century
“With the explosive growth in counseling programs in recent years, this resource will find abundant users among both students and the general public.”
- BUSINESS/ECONOMICS – Encyclopedia of Business Ethics and Society
“This timely work features leading experts discussing the relationship among business, ethics, and society in more than 800 entries on topics like antitrust laws, ethical issues of bankruptcy, corporate accountability, insider trading, and Ponzi schemes.”
- SCIENCES – Encyclopedia of Global Warming and Climate Change
“Leading scholars explore topics like abrupt climate change, climate sensitivity, geospatial technology, retreating glaciers, and greenhouse effect.”
