TRANSFORMATION:
AN INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF HOLISTIC MISSION STUDIES
NOW PUBLISHED BY SAGE

Los Angeles, London, New Delhi, Singapore and Washington DC (February 6, 2009) – Transformation, the journal of the Oxford Centre for Mission Studies (OCMS), is now published by SAGE, the world's leading independent academic and professional publisher.

Published quarterly, the peer-reviewed journal provides an international forum for discussion on Mission Studies, particularly focusing on the Majority World and original papers in the following fields are published: Mission and Theology; Bible and Ethics; Religions and Culture; Faith Based Development. The journal offers considered analysis and reflection on a range of issues affecting the world today, including economics, development, violence, family life and other ethical issues.

The journal joins SAGE's well-regarded portfolio of theology, Biblical studies and religious education titles, including Biblical Theology Bulletin (BTB) which also moved to SAGE in 2009.

"SAGE's support in copy-editing, international marketing, and its ability to offer increasing visibility through multiple formats and platforms, as well as assisting in developing editorial strategies and providing reliable delivery, is expected to enhance OCMS' profile globally" said Wonsuk Ma, Executive Director of OCMS.

"We are delighted to expand our portfolio into the area of mission studies by partnering with such a prestigious institution as OCMS," said Miranda Nunhofer, Associate Director, HSS Journals, SAGE. "Transformation is a unique publication, shedding light on major faith-based and ethical concerns globally. We look forward to supporting its future development."

The first issue of Transformation published by SAGE is vol. 26 issue 1 2009. The journal is published in January, April, July, and October; print ISSN: 0265-3788; online ISSN: 1759-8931. For further details visit the journal website at <http://trn.sagepub.com>.
