SAGE Publications Expresses Commitment to Libraries

Thousand Oaks, CA (March 27, 2003) – SAGE Publications today announced it would continue to provide journals to RoweCom clients affected by RoweCom’s announced bankruptcy. SAGE, which has been “gracing” issues to RoweCom customers since the first of the year, will honor prepaid print and online subscriptions ordered via RoweCom throughout 2003.

SAGE has signed the Prepaid Order Agreement as approved by the bankruptcy court. Further, SAGE intends to “grace” library customers affected by the bankruptcy for all 2003 prepaid subscriptions entered through RoweCom, whether or not such customers also sign the Agreement.

SAGE anticipates that under the circumstances there may be inaccuracies in the RoweCom orders it has received, but believes direct communication with its customers will serve to alleviate any difficulties.

“SAGE Publication’s primary mission is the continued dissemination of high quality information, through continued excellent service to the libraries who collect our journals.” According to Glyn Davies, Vice President of Sales and Marketing. “We intend that SAGE journals remain available to all of RoweCom’s library customers and their clients, and that these collections remain complete.”
