SAGE PARTNERS WITH THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SECONDARY SCHOOL PRINCIPALS TO PUBLISH NASSP BULLETIN

Thousand Oaks, California, London, United Kingdom, and New Delhi, India (May 23, 2006) – SAGE is pleased to announce its new partnership with the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) to publish their award-winning official journal, NASSP Bulletin.

Edited by Lenoar Foster, this peer-reviewed quarterly publication provides principals with research-based information to advance the performance of middle and high school principals. The NASSP Bulletin features a wide range of articles for educators, aimed to promote student learning and achievement, provide insight for strategic planning and decision making in schools, and provide research and a contemporary perspective on educational reform and policies.

"In SAGE Publications, we found the perfect partner to represent NASSP in the complex world of scholarly publishing," commented NASSP Director of Publications, Bob Farrace. "SAGE's savvy and knowledgeable staff has helped NASSP raise its profile as a provider of education research far better than we could have done on our own."

"SAGE is delighted to be associated with NASSP and the journal," agreed Peter Binfield, SAGE Journals Editorial Director. "The NASSP's goals of developing excellent leadership in the education community closely aligns with SAGE's mission. The NASSP Bulletin is a valued addition to SAGE's education journal portfolio, and the partnership is a natural one."
