The International and American Associations for Dental Research (IADR/AADR) are seeking an Editor-in-Chief for the Journal of Dental Research (JDR) to serve a renewable five-year term starting in April, 2010.

Founded in 1919, the JDR is a multidisciplinary journal dedicated to the dissemination of new knowledge in all sciences relevant to dentistry and the oral cavity and associated structures in health and disease. The JDR holds the highest Five-Year Impact Factor of all dental journals, at 3.966, with a cited half-life >10 years, reflecting the influential nature of the Journal’s content. It also has the highest Eigenfactor Score in the field.

The Editor-in-Chief, a part-time position, is responsible for the full range of editorial duties, including review and acceptance of manuscripts, in cooperation with Associate Editors, reviewers, and an Editorial Board. The Editor-in-Chief works closely with our commercial publishing partner, SAGE Publications, Inc., and is a member of the IADR/AADR Boards of Directors and Councils, and the Publications Committee.

The Editor-in-Chief must have a distinguished record of scientific accomplishment reflected in peer-reviewed publications. Dental and/or PhD degree (or equivalent) is preferred. Previous experience as an Editor or Associate Editor is desirable. The position is available April, 2010 and carries an annual honorarium. Additional information is available upon request. The application deadline is August 14, 2009.

Interested parties should submit a letter of application, a two-page vision statement detailing how the applicant will lead and improve the Journal in today’s fast-paced online environment, a comprehensive curriculum vitae, and contact information for three colleagues who will provide letters of reference. The applicant is responsible for requesting the designated colleagues to submit letters of reference directly to the e-mail below.

The IADR/AADR are equal opportunity associations and are seeking applications across all geographies. Applications and letters of reference should be submitted electronically by August 14, 2009 to:

Prof. Angus Walls
Chair, JDR Editor Search Committee
JDREditorSearch@iadr.org

Successful applicants will be invited for interviews on October 10, 2009 in Alexandria, Va. and December 7, 2009 in San Francisco, Calif.
