

Submission Guidelines/Instructions for Authors

To submit a manuscript to Health Promotion Practice, you may do so through our online manuscript submission, review and monitoring system, Editorial Manager, at <http://www.editorialmanager.com/hpp>.

Please read the following instructions for authors completely before submitting your manuscript to HPP.

Manuscripts are invited on a variety of topics related to the application of health promotion/health education programs in various settings. Manuscripts addressing the following topics are encouraged:

- * Innovative linkages between academics/researchers and practitioners
- * Community and/or clinical applications of new or state-of-the-art intervention strategies
- * Policy advocacy and social environmental interventions to promote health
- * Evaluations of community and/or clinical interventions focusing on the utility for practitioners
- * Sustainability/durability of interventions and policy initiatives, and
- * Other applied practice topics.

When considering the development and submission of manuscripts to Health Promotion Practice, the journal's mission statement should be considered:

The journal publishes authoritative articles devoted to the practical application of health promotion and education. It publishes information of strategic importance to a broad base of professionals engaged in the practice of developing, implementing, and evaluating health promotion and disease prevention programs. The journal's editorial board has made a commitment to focus on the applications of health promotion and public health education interventions, programs and best practice strategies in various settings, including but not limited to community, health care, worksite, educational and international settings.

Additionally, the journal focuses on the development and application of public policy conducive to the promotion of health and prevention of disease. The journal includes issues related to the professional preparation and development of health educators. The journal recognizes the critical need to (1) promote linkages between researchers in the academic and private sectors with health promotion and education practitioners; and (2) address the health issues of ethnic and racial minority populations. These partnerships and collaborations are reflected in the editorial philosophy and the broad scope of published articles and contributed sections. The journal adheres to the ethical principles of the profession as reflected in SOPHE's code of ethics.

Authors are asked not to use the following terms:

- * Subjects when referring to participants;
- * Target populations when referring to Priority populations

OnlineFirst / Publish Ahead of Print

Effective May 2006, Health Promotion Practice is pleased to announce the implementation of OnlineFirst, a SAGE Journals Online feature where completed articles are published online prior to their inclusion in a print issue (also referred to as “publishing ahead of print”). This feature offers you the advantage of making your research accessible to our readers and the public in a more timely manner. For your information, “FAQs about OnlineFirst” can be found on the Health Promotion Practice Editorial Manager® website at <http://hpp.edmgr.com>.

During the production process each manuscript is assigned a Digital Object Identifier (DOI), a unique identification number similar to the ISBN assigned to book publications. (You can find this number on the bottom left-hand corner of the first page of your proofs.) While available through OnlineFirst, your manuscript should be cited using the DOI as follows:

Smith, JR, Brown, AB. Article title. Health Promotion Practice. Prepublished January 17, 2006, DOI: 10.1177/0123456789123456

After the article is assigned to a specific issue, new citations can be made using volume and page number information, while still using the DOI:

Smith, JR, Brown, AB. Article title. Health Promotion Practice. 2006, 33: 211–217 DOI: 10.1177/0123456789123456

As the corresponding author on your manuscript, you will automatically receive a separate email notification with detailed information about the article once it has been assigned to an issue. If you would like to receive email notification for ongoing HPP tables of contents, and alerts by author name, you can register for HPP Email Alerts at <http://hpp.sagepub.com/cgi/alerts>.

Thank you, again, for your submission to Health Promotion Practice. We hope that you will share in our excitement about Onlinefirst, and look forward to your feedback. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at (202) 408-9804 or sleonard@sophe.org.
