Call for Papers
Deadline: October 15, 2010

Editor: Karen Stein PhD, RN, FAAN

Journal of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association

Special Issue:
Advances in Forensic Psychiatric Nursing
Guest Editors:
Ursula Kelly, PhD, ANP-BC, PMHNP-BC
David Sharp, PhD, MA, RMN, RGN, CertHSM, MSc, RNT, MSc, RN
This special issue is an initiative of the Forensic Council of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association.

Forensic psychiatric nurses work in a variety of settings and roles that relate to public health and societal concerns that affect the mental health of victims, offenders, their families and significant others, and the community-at-large. This special issue will focus on advances in forensic psychiatric nursing based on research and expert clinical practice, especially forensic approaches to evaluation, treatment, program development and education. Forensic nursing is a critical aspect of psychiatric/mental health nursing and is relevant to a broad spectrum of mental health problems and settings.

Manuscript submissions may include, but are not limited to: workplace violence, evaluation of offenders, roles such as correctional nursing, death investigation and expert testimony, all aspects of interpersonal violence across the lifespan, and traumatic responses to violence and trauma in survivors and significant others. Data-based manuscripts, state-of-the-science/critical literature reviews are preferred. However, anecdotal reports from practice settings or case studies from the field will also be considered. All manuscripts should be translational in nature by including key practice points for psychiatric nurses that can be implemented in healthcare settings.

For manuscript guidelines please see a recent issue of the Journal or visit the Manuscript Submission Guidelines online. For more information on the Journal of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association and to access a free sample issue, visit

Http://japna.sagepub.com

The Journal of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association (JAPNA) provides quality, up-to-date information to promote psychiatric nursing, improve mental health care for culturally diverse individuals, families, groups, and communities, as well as shape health care policy for the delivery of mental health services. JAPNA, a peer-reviewed journal, not only publishes original research and practice-focuses articles, but also features editorials, interviews, briefings, and letters to the editors. The journal's expert content provides psychiatric nurses with the newest effective nursing practices, innovative therapeutic approaches, significant information trends, and useful, clinically-focused research in psychiatric-mental health nursing and its related subspecialties.

Editorial Contact Information

Contact the guest editor for questions about topics or works in progress for this special issue:

Ursula Kelly, PhD, ANP-BC, PMHNP-BC
Visiting Scholar
Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing
Emory University
1520 Clifton Rd. NE
Atlanta, GA 30322
Email: ukelly@emory.edu
Tel: 404-727-2715   Fax: 404-727-0536

David Sharp, PhD, MA, RMN, RGN, CertHSM, MSc, RNT, MSc, RN
Professor of Nursing
Louisiana College
1140 College Drive
Pineville, LA 71360
Email dsharp@lacollege.edu
Tel: 951-259-2102   Fax: 318-487-7488

Submit articles to Journal of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association (JAPNA) online at http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/japna with a note that it is for the special issue.