Article types

View our topical sections currently accepting submissions

View our Special Collections currently accepting submissions.

Please visit the Sage Journal Author Gateway for guidance on producing visual and/or video abstracts.

European Journal of Personality accepts the following article types:

- Empirical and non-empirical papers

These include original empirical research articles, meta-analyses, reviews and theoretical articles on any topic related to personality research and its applications, as long as they are consistent with the Aims and Scope of the Journal, meet its Evaluation Criteria and comply with its Open Science Policy. Typically, the Journal does not publish articles about the development and validation of assessment tools or associations between psychological constructs observed in cross-sectional self-report data, including factor analyses of self-report data. Papers on specific clinical phenomena without broader relevance for personality are also not considered.

We encourage authors to write as succinctly as possible, while still a) thoroughly describing the rationale for their research, b) transparently describing their analyses and results, and c) thoughtfully discussing their findings and the implications of these. Manuscripts are expected to be no longer than absolutely necessary for achieving these aims and editors may ask excessive parts of the text to be shortened, moved to Supplemental Material, or removed.

As the upper limit, regular empirical articles should be no longer than 10,000 words; multi-study articles, theoretical articles and meta-analyses no longer than 12,500 words; and replications no longer than 5,000 words. These word counts include tables and figure captions, but not the title page, abstract, references and Supplemental Material, and apply to submissions from 1st January 2022 onward. Editors can allow longer submissions if compelling reasons for this are clearly described in the Cover Letter.

We encourage authors to post RMarkdowns (or equivalents) of their empirical analyses as online Supplemental Material, making the statistical analyses and results more transparent for Reviewers, Editors, and Readers. Often, using RMarkdowns allows some parts of the main text (e.g., those describing the analytic strategy or less-focal details of the results) to be shorter.

The Markdowns can be either:

- submitted alongside the manuscript to be posted as Supplemental Material on the journal website upon acceptance or
- published at Open Science Framework.

For a more detailed discussion of RMarkdowns and guidance on preparing them, see here.

- Registered Reports:

These are a special form of empirical articles in which the rationale, methods and analyses of the proposed article are preregistered and reviewed prior to data collection and statistical analyses; only if and when these are accepted by the Journal, authors are asked to proceed with their work. The rest of the manuscript will be reviewed later as a revision of the initial submission. Initial submissions will include a description of the theoretical and empirical background alongside the main research questions and hypotheses (essentially the introductory section of the planned article), and a detailed Methods section that outlines planned procedures, measures, sampling strategies and statistical analysis, and describes findings based on pilot data (if applicable). For more information, please see here.

- Target Articles:

These are theoretical articles that review the state of art in a key topic of personality science, initiate new lines of research and theory, provide a coherent framework for existing theory and areas of research, or discuss key or controversial issues that have important consequences for personality research or its applications. For proposing a target article, please contact the editor Matthias Ziegler (ejp.eic@gmail.com).

Before preparing your manuscript, please consult the Evaluation Criteria used by the editors and reviewers as well as the Journal's Open Science Policy.

Formatting guidelines for all manuscripts:

- In the main document, the title page should only include the title of the paper without any information about authors' names or affiliations. However, a separate document including the names and affiliations of all authors should be uploaded as "Title Page"; this separate document should also include the full address and email of the corresponding author, the name(s) of funders along with grant number(s), declaration of any conflict of interest, and other acknowledgements, if applicable.

- Include an abstract of up to 200 words. This is a concise summary of the whole paper, including the methods and conclusions, and should be understandable without having read the rest of the paper. It should not contain citations.
- Include three to five keywords.
- In the main text, the Journal encourages authors to be as succinct as possible and yet as detailed as necessary. Regular empirical articles should be no longer than 10,000 words; multi-study articles, theoretical articles and meta-analyses no longer than 12,500 words; and replications no longer than 5,000 words. Please use Supplemental Material for any non-essential details of the materials, data, analyses, and results (see below)."
- Where appropriate, use sub-headings to structure the Introduction, Method, Results, and Discussion parts of the manuscript.
- Embed the Tables and Figures in the manuscript (see also here).

It is not necessary to double-space the text.

Clinical trial registration

The journal conforms to the ICMJE requirement that clinical trials are registered in a WHO-approved public trials registry at or before the time of first participant enrollment as a condition of consideration for publication. The trial registry name and URL, and registration number must be included at the end of the abstract.

Reporting guidelines

Your manuscript must follow the relevant EQUATOR Network reporting guidelines, depending on the type of study. The EQUATOR wizard can help identify the appropriate guideline. You will need to upload the appropriate checklist with your submission.

Other resources can be found at NLM's Research Reporting Guidelines and Initiatives.

If your research involves animals, you will be asked to confirm that you have carefully read and adhered to the ARRIVE guidelines.

Formatting your manuscript

Accepted file types

The preferred format for your manuscript is Word. You do not need to follow a template, but please ensure your heading levels are clear, and the sections clearly defined.

The LaTeX files are also accepted. A LaTeX template is available on the Sage Journal Author Gateway.

Your article title, keywords, and abstract all contribute to its position in search engine results, directly affecting the number of people who see your work. For details of what you can do to influence this, visit How to help readers find your article online.

Title

Your manuscript's title should be concise, descriptive, unambiguous, accurate, and reflect the precise contents of the manuscript. A descriptive title that includes the topic of the manuscript makes an article more findable in the major indexing services.

Abstract

Please include a structured/unstructured abstract between the title and main body of your manuscript that concisely states the purpose of the research, major findings, and conclusions. If your research includes clinical trials, the trial registry name and URL, and registration number must be included at the end of the abstract. Submissions that do not meet this requirement will not be considered.

For clinical trials, the trial registry name and URL, and registration number must be included at the end of the abstract.

This journal includes plain language summaries. For more information on how to prepare a plain language summary, please see this page.

Plain language summaries

A plain language summary (PLS) must be provided for all article types that require an abstract. The plain language title (approx. 50 words) and plain language summary (approx. 300 words) should describe the article using non-technical language, making it accessible to a wider network of readers. More information and guidance on how to write a PLS can be found on our Author Gateway.

PLS are published directly below the scientific abstract and are open access making it available online for anyone to read. Peer review of the PLS will be conducted following our PLS reviewer guidelines. When submitting, authors should enter their plain language title and plain language summary into the box provided in the submission system. The PLS does not need to be provided in the manuscript text or as a separate file. Manuscripts without a PLS, or a PLS which is a direct copy of the scientific abstract, will be returned. If the article type does not require an abstract and therefore does not require a PLS please enter "N/A" in each box.

If you need professional help writing your Plain Language Summary, please visit our Author Services portal.

Keywords

Please include a minimum of 4-5 keywords, listed after the abstract. Keywords should be as specific as possible to the research topic.

Artwork, figures, and other graphics

For guidance on the preparation of illustrations, pictures, and graphs in electronic format, please read Sage's artwork guidelines.

Figures supplied in color will appear in color online regardless of whether or not these illustrations are reproduced in color in the printed version. If you have requested color reproduction in the print version, we will advise you of the costs on receipt of your accepted article.

Please ensure that you have obtained any necessary permission from copyright holders for reproducing any illustrations, tables, figures, or lengthy quotations previously published elsewhere. For further information including guidance on fair dealing for criticism and review, please see the Frequently Asked Questions page on the Sage Journal Author Gateway.

Statements and declarations

Please include a section with the heading 'Statements and Declarations' at the end of your submitted article, after the Acknowledgements section [and Author Contributions section if applicable] including each of the sub-headings listed below. If a declaration is not applicable to your submission, you must still include the heading and state 'Not applicable' underneath. Please note that you may be asked to justify why a declaration was not applicable to your submission by the Editorial Office.

Ethical considerations

Please include your ethics approval statements under this heading, even if you have already included ethics approval information in your methods section. If ethical approval was not required, you need to explicitly state this. You can find information on what to say in your ethical statements as well as example statements on our Publication ethics and research integrity policies page.

All papers reporting studies involving human participants, human data or human issue must state that the relevant Ethics Committee or Institutional Review Board approved the study, or waived the requirement for approval, providing the full name and institution of the review committee in addition to the approval number. If applicable, please also include this information in the Methods section of your manuscript.

Consent to participate

Please include any participant consent information under this heading and state whether informed consent to participate was written or verbal. If the requirement for informed consent to participate has been waived by the relevant Ethics Committee or Institutional Review Board (i.e. where it has been deemed that consent would be impossible or impracticable to obtain), please state this. If this is not applicable to your manuscript, please state 'Not applicable' in this section. More information and example statements can be found on our Publication ethics and research integrity policies page.

Consent for publication

Submissions containing any data from an individual person (including individual details, images or videos) must include a statement confirming that informed consent for publication was provided by the participant(s) or a legally authorized representative. Non-essential identifying details should be omitted. Please do not submit the participant's actual written informed consent with your article, as this in itself breaches the patient's confidentiality. The Journal requests that you confirm to us, in writing, that you have obtained written informed consent to publish but the written consent itself should be held by the authors/investigators themselves, for example in a patient's hospital record. The confirmatory letter may be uploaded with your submission as a separate file in addition to the statement confirming that consent to publish was obtained within the manuscript text. If this is not applicable to your manuscript, please state 'Not applicable' in this section.

Declaration of conflicting interest

The journal requires a declaration of conflicting interests from all authors so that a statement can be included in your article. For guidance on conflict of interest statements, see our policy on conflicting interest declarations and the ICMJE recommendations.

If no conflict exists, your statement should read: 'The author(s) declared no potential conflicts of interest with respect to the research, authorship, and/or publication of this article'.

Funding statement

All articles need to include a funding statement, under a separate heading, even if you did not receive funding. You'll find guidance and examples on our Funding page.

Data availability

The Journal is committed to facilitating openness, transparency and reproducibility of research, and has the following research data sharing policy. For more information, including FAQs please visit the Sage Research Data policy pages.

As a condition of publication, authors are required to:

- Share your research data in a relevant public data repository
- Include a data availability statement. This should:
  - Indicate if data is available and shared
  - In certain cases, indicate if research data is available but not shared, and why. If you cannot share your data and this is a requirement of publication, consult the journal editorial office.
  - Indicate if there is an absence of data
- Cite data in your research

Peer reviewers may be asked to peer review the research data prior to publication.

- Peer reviewers may be asked to assess compliance with the research data policy
- Peer reviewers may be asked to assess research data files

If you need to anonymize your research data for peer review, please refer to our Research Data Sharing FAQs for guidance.

Reference style and citations

The journal follows the APA reference style. View the APA guidelines to ensure your manuscript conforms.

Every in-text citation must have a corresponding citation in the reference list and vice versa. Corresponding citations must have identical spelling and year.

Authors should update any references to preprints when a peer reviewed version is made available, to cite the published research. Citations to preprints are otherwise discouraged.

Acknowledgments

If you are including an Acknowledgements section, this will be published at the end of your article. The Acknowledgments section should include all contributors who do not meet the criteria for authorship. Per ICMJE recommendations, it is best practice to obtain consent from non-author contributors who you are acknowledging in your manuscript.

Writing assistance and third party submissions: if you have received any writing or editing assistance from a third-party, for example a specialist communications company, this must be clearly stated in the Acknowledgements section and in the covering letter. Please see the Sage Author Gateway for what information to include in your Acknowledgements section. If your submission is being made on your behalf by someone who is not listed as an author, for example the third-party who provided writing/editing assistance, you must state this in the Acknowledgements and also in your covering letter. Please note that the journal editor reserves the right to not consider submissions made by a third party rather than by the author/s themselves.

Supplemental material

This Journal can host additional materials online (e.g. datasets, podcasts, videos, images etc.) alongside the full text of the article. Your supplemental material must be one of our accepted file types. For that list and more information please refer to our guidelines on submitting supplemental files.

English language editing services

Authors seeking assistance with English language editing, translation, or figure and manuscript formatting to fit the journal's specifications should consider using Sage Author Services. Visit Sage Author Services for further information.

Submitting your manuscript

As part of the submission process you will need to confirm that this is your original work, that you have the rights in the work, that this is for first publication in this Journal, that it is not being considered for/has not already been published elsewhere, and that you have obtained and can supply all necessary permissions for the reproduction of any copyright works not owned by you.

Please see our guidelines on prior publication and note that the journal may accept submissions of manuscripts that have been posted on preprint servers.

Preprints

The journal will consider submissions of manuscripts that have been posted on preprint servers.

Please enter the preprint DOI in the designated field when submitting your manuscript. We advise that you inform the Journal Editorial office about your posted preprint at submission.

Note that you should not post an updated version of your manuscript on a preprint server while it is being peer reviewed.

Learn more about our preprint policy.

Submission site

Submit your manuscript online via Sage Track.

IMPORTANT: Please check whether you already have an account in Sage Track before trying to create a new one. If you have reviewed or authored for the journal in the past year it is likely that you will have had an account created. For further guidance on submitting your manuscript online please visit ScholarOne Online Help.

Manuscripts should only be submitted with the consent of all contributing authors. The individual responsible for submitting the manuscript should carefully check that all those whose work contributed to the manuscript are listed as authors.

Ensure you upload all relevant manuscript files, including any additional supplemental files (including reporting guidelines where relevant).

Authorship

Please view our authorship policies, which includes information on criteria for authorship, who should be the corresponding author and more.

Please note that AI chatbots, for example ChatGPT, should not be listed as authors. For more information see the policy on Use of ChatGPT and generative AI tools.

Open Science Policy

European Journal of Personality has signed the Transparency and Openness Promotion (TOP)-Guidelines (see <https://osf.io/9f6gx/>) and open science is a key part of the journal's identity. For Journal's current TOP score, see topfactor.org. During submission, authors have to confirm how their manuscript complies with open science standards.

European Journal of Personality allows variability in how authors address the open science standards, but it asks for transparency about their choices. This policy accommodates circumstances that do not allow authors to meet all of the standards. However, editors give credit to (empirical) submissions that comply with them and do not accept articles that fail to provide an explanation for why the standards cannot be met.

Material, data and analysis scripts are generally considered “open” if the paper includes a URL to an openly accessible file stored at a permanent public repository (such as the Open Science Framework; OSF). Therefore, all manuscripts must have a Open Science Statement after the Discussion (before References) that states where materials, data and scripts can be accessed (or why they cannot be accessed), preferably with direct URL(s). Simply noting that other researchers can request material is not considered “open”. For example, the statement could read: “The study materials, data and analysis scripts used for this article can be accessed at [a permanent and openly accessible URL].”

During submission, authors are invited to apply for Open Science Badges (Open material, Open data, Preregistered). The badges are assigned based on how the paper complies with the open science standards.

- Your manuscript, properly formatted according to all stipulations above, and within the scope of the journal.
- Figures and images. All figures must be numbered consecutively in the order in which they appear in the text – they will appear in the published article in the order they are numbered. Figure resolution is 300dpi. More information on figure/image preparation can be found here.
- Supplemental material. This journal can host additional materials online (e.g. datasets, podcasts, videos, images, etc) alongside the full-text of the article. Your supplemental material must be one of our accepted file types. For that list and more information please refer to our guidelines on submitting supplemental files.

Other information required for submission

- ORCID ID of the submitting author.
  - It is strongly encouraged that all co-authors ensure their ORCID IDs are linked to their accounts in the submission system prior to article acceptance, as this is the only way to have their ORCID ID present on the published article. ORCID IDs cannot be added to manuscripts after acceptance/publication. Please note that each co-author must log in to the submission system to add their own ORCID ID to their account. To add an ORCID ID, edit your account, click the link when prompted, and sign into your ORCID account to validate your ID. You will then be redirected back to the submission system and your ORCID ID will become part of your accepted publication's metadata.

- Please create an ORCID ID if you do not already have one or visit our ORCID homepage to learn more.
- Complete list of authors, with their institutional affiliations.
  - The author information you enter at submission must exactly match what is included on your manuscript and/or title page, including full names, academic affiliations, and corresponding author contact details.
  - The listed affiliation should be the institution where the research was conducted. If an author has moved to a new institution since completing the research, the new affiliation can be included in a note at the end of the manuscript.
  - All listed authors must meet the criteria for authorship (above).
  - All persons eligible for authorship must be included at the time of submission.
  - All authors must have given consent for the manuscript to be submitted in its current form.
- Keywords: During submission, you may be asked to select or enter keywords for your manuscript. These keywords are used to match appropriate reviewers to your manuscript.
- The number of figures, tables, and words in your manuscript.
- Funder information: Name, grant/award number.
- You may be required to enter your declaration of conflicting interest as part of the submission process, in addition to listing it on your manuscript and/or title page. Please have it on hand.
- If you have posted your manuscript to a preprint server, you will be asked to supply the DOI (this does not prohibit submission, but no changes should be made to the preprint version while your manuscript is under evaluation in this journal). Please see our guidelines on prior publication. If the article is accepted for publication, the author may re-use their work according to the journal's author archiving policy. If your manuscript is accepted, you must include a link in your preprint to the final version of your published article.

Peer review policy

The following summary describes the peer review process for this journal:

Identity transparency: European Journal of Personality operates an anonymized peer review process in which the reviewers' and authors' names are withheld from each other. The reviewer may, at their own discretion, opt to reveal their name to the author in their review but our default policy is for both identities to remain concealed.

Reviewer interacts with: Editor

Review information published: None

Your manuscript will undergo an initial evaluation. If it does not conform to the requirements laid out in these guidelines, it will be returned to you for amendments prior to peer review. Manuscripts may be desk rejected without peer review at this point if they are out of scope for the journal or otherwise unsuitable.

After passing the initial evaluation, your manuscript will then be peer reviewed. You can log in at any time to check the status of your manuscript. We will notify you when a decision has been reached.

European Journal of Personality operates an anonymized peer review process in which the reviewers' and authors' names are withheld from each other. The reviewer may, at their own discretion, opt to reveal their name to the author in their review but our default policy is for both identities to remain concealed.

The Journal does not use author-suggested reviewers.

European Journal of Personality also offers transparent peer review as a choice for authors, where the reviews at each stage, author responses and editor's decision letters will be publicly available on the ScholarOne Transparent Peer Review platform and linked to from the published article should the article be accepted. Authors have the opportunity to opt-out during submission. Reviewers are encouraged to sign their reviews but their comments will be published anonymously should they choose not to do so.

Streamlined review

European Journal of Personality allows authors to ask for a streamlined review and deals with it within the regular submission system. Authors can request streamlined during the submission process and in the cover letter, indicating the name the journal that originally rejected the manuscript. As Supplemental Material, authors should also upload copies of the original (i.e., unaltered) decision letter and reviews along with a document describing their responses to these comments. Editors will take this information into account, but are not bound by it. If the previous decision letter, reviews and the authors' responses to these allow editors to make a decision without or with a smaller number of reviews, they will do so.

To ensure the integrity of the peer review process we assign reviewers and cannot accept author recommendations.

All manuscripts are reviewed as rapidly as possible, while maintaining rigor. Reviewers make comments to the author and recommendations to the Editor who then makes the final decision on all manuscripts, including those appearing in a special issue or special collection. The Editor or members of the Editorial Board may occasionally submit their own manuscripts for possible publication in the Journal. In these cases, the peer review process will be managed by alternative members of the Board and the submitting Editor/Board member will have no involvement in the decision-making process.

The journal has Associate Editors (AE) and Consulting Editors (CE) who serve the journal as external peer reviewers. Every AE and CE are active researchers in the field and are selected based on strict criteria, ensuring they possess the necessary expertise and experience. The Editor(s) may use one Associate Editor or Consulting Editor as a reviewer for each manuscript, and will then reach beyond this pool to include additional reviewers to meet the required number before a decision can be made. This ensures a comprehensive and robust peer review process, aligning with our commitment to publish the most credible and valid research. Care is taken not to invite any AEs or CEs have any potential conflict of interest with any author of the paper.

As a COPE member we engage with multiple forms of post-publication discussion in line with wider guidance from Sage: Commentaries, Critiques and Responses.

You can view our complaints and appeals policy here.

Plagiarism

The journal and Sage take issues of copyright infringement, plagiarism or other breaches of best practice in publication very seriously. Please read Sage's complete policy on plagiarism and the actions we may take.

After acceptance

Contributor's Publishing Agreement

Before publication, we require the author as the rights holder to sign a Journal Contributor's Publishing Agreement. Sage's Journal Contributor's Publishing Agreement is an exclusive license agreement which means that the author retains copyright in the work but grants Sage the sole and exclusive right and license to publish for the full legal term of copyright. Exceptions may exist where an assignment of copyright is required or preferred by a proprietor other than Sage. In this case copyright in the work will be assigned from the author to the society. For more information please visit the Sage Journal Author Gateway.

Preprints

If your manuscript was posted on a preprint server prior to acceptance, you must include a link in your preprint to the final published version of your published article.

Production

Your Sage Production Editor will keep you informed as to your article's progress throughout the production process. Proofs will be made available to the corresponding author via our editing portal, Sage Edit, or by email, and should be returned promptly to avoid delaying publication. Authors are reminded to check their proofs carefully to confirm that all author information, including names, affiliations, sequence, and contact details are correct, and that Funding and Conflict of Interest statements, if any, are accurate. This is the final opportunity to make changes to your manuscript. Further corrections will not be possible after publication. Changes to the author list are not permitted at this stage.

Publication

OnlineFirst publication: This enables us to publish final articles online immediately, without waiting for assignment to a future issue of the Journal. This usually significantly reduces publication lead time. Visit the Sage Journals help page for more details, including how to cite OnlineFirst articles.

Access to your published article: We provide you with online access to your published article. The online access link is provided to the corresponding author for sharing with their co-authors.

Promoting your article

Publication is not the end of the process. Between us, we can ensure that your article is found, read, downloaded and cited as widely as possible. Many of the most effective tactics are those you can do quickly and easily to your network of contacts and peers. Visit the Promote Your Article page on the Sage Journal Author Gateway for numerous resources to help you promote your work.
