CALL FOR PAPERS

Journal of Mixed Methods Research

The Journal of Mixed Methods Research (JMMR) is an international publication that focuses on empirical, methodological, and theoretical articles about mixed methods research across the social, behavioral, health, and human sciences. It also includes insightful reflections on important issues in mixed methods research, and extensive book and software reviews with practical applications.

The editors of JMMR are currently seeking manuscripts that focus on:

- Collection and analysis of data
- Integration of qualitative and quantitative findings in one study
- Inferences using both qualitative and quantitative approaches or methods
- Types of research/evaluation questions
- Types of mixed methods designs
- Sampling and/or measurement procedures
- Approaches to data analysis
- Validity
- Software applications
- Paradigm stance
- Writing structures
- The value and use of mixed methods research

JMMR’s scope includes exploring the terminology and nomenclature used in mixed methods research, providing a forum for the discussion of parameters effecting mixed methods research, creating the paradigmatic and philosophical foundations for mixed methods research, illuminating design and procedure issues, and determining the logistics of conducting mixed methods research.
