Preface: To Our Readers  xxiii
Instructors: How to Make This Book Work for You xxv
A Personal Note to the Instructor  xxix
Acknowledgments xxxiii

Part I. Understanding Our Social World: The Scientific Study of Society  1

Chapter 1 • Sociology: A Unique Way to View the World  2

What Is Sociology?  6
  Underlying Ideas in Sociology  6
  Sociology Versus Common Sense  7
  Commonsense Beliefs and Social Science Findings  8
  The Sociological Imagination  9
  Questions Sociologists Ask— and Don’t Ask  10
  Sociology in Our Social World—How Will You Spend the 21st Century?  11
  The Social Sciences: A Comparison  12

Why Study Sociology . . . and What Do Sociologists Do?  13
  What Sociologists Do  14
    Sociology in Our Social World—Burnouts and Jocks in a Public High School  15
  What Employers Want and What Sociology Majors Bring to a Career  16

The Social World Model  17
  Social Structures  19
  Social Processes  20
  The Environment  20

Studying the Social World: Levels of Analysis  20
  Micro-Level Analysis  21
  Meso-Level Analysis  21
  Macro-Level Analysis  22

  Engaging Sociology—Micro-Meso-Macro  24
  Sociology Around the World—Tunisian Village Meets the Modern World  25

The Social World Model and This Book  26
  Engaging Sociology—Micro-Meso-Macro: An Application Exercise  27

Chapter 2 • Examining the Social World: How Do We Know?  30

Ideas Underlying Science  33
  Empirical Research and Social Theory  34
  How Sociologists Study the Social World  35

  Planning a Research Study  35
  Designing the Research Method and Collecting the Data  37
  Sociology in Our Social World—The Hull House Circle: Historical Content Analysis in Sociology  41
  Analysis: Making Sense of the Data  42
    Engaging Sociology—How to Read a Research Table  43
  Science and Uncertainty  45
  Ethical Issues in Social Research  45

The Development of Sociology as a Discipline  46
  Early Sociological Thought  46
  Conditions Leading to Modern Sociology  46
  Three Sociological Traditions  49

Sociology’s Major Theoretical Perspectives  49
  Micro- to Meso-Level Theories  50
    Symbolic Interaction  50
    Rational Choice (Exchange) Theory  51
  Meso- and Macro-Level Theories  53
    Structural-Functional Theory  53
    Conflict Theory  55
    Feminist Sociological Theory  57
    Multi-Level Analysis: Max Weber’s Contributions  58

Using Different Theoretical Perspectives  59

Putting Sociology to Work  60
  Applied Sociology  60
  Public Sociology  60

What Have We Learned?  61
  Key Points  62
Contributing to Our Social World: What Can We Do?  62
Part II. Social Structure, Processes, and Control  63

Chapter 3 • Society and Culture: Hardware and Software of Our Social World  64

Society: The Hardware  67
Evolution of Societies  67
Hunter-Gatherer Societies  70
Herding and Horticultural Societies  70
Agricultural Societies  71
Industrial Societies  72
Postindustrial or Information Societies  73
The Applied Sociologist at Work—Richard Florida: Creativity, Community, and Applied Sociology  75

Culture: The Software  75
Engaging Sociology—Pop Culture and Technology  76
Ethnocentrism and Cultural Relativity  78
Sociology Around the World—Evolutionary Cuisine  81

The Components of Culture  81
Material Culture: The Artifacts of Life  82
Nonmaterial Culture: Beliefs, Values, Rules, and Language  82
Photo Essay—Houses as Part of a Society’s Material Culture  83
Sociology Around the World—Life and Death in a Guatemalan Village  85

Society, Culture, and Our Social World  91
Microcultures: Micro-Level Analysis  91
Sociology in Our Social World—Culture in Worksplaces  92
Subcultures and Countercultures: Meso-Level Analysis  93
National and Global Culture: Macro-Level Analysis  95
National Society and Culture  95
Global Society and Culture  96

Cultural Theory at the Micro Level  96
Symbolic Interaction Theory  97

Cultural Theories at the Meso and Macro Levels  97
Structural-Functional Theory  97
Conflict Theory  98

Social Policy and Cultural Change  99
The Fit Between Hardware and Software  100

What Have We Learned?  101
Key Points  101
Contributing to Our Social World: What Can We Do?  102

Chapter 4 • Socialization: Becoming Human and Humane  104

Nature and Nurture  107
The Importance of Socialization  108

Socialization and the Social World  109
Development of the Self: Micro-Level Analysis  110
The Looking-Glass Self and Taking the Role of the Other  110
Sociology in Our Social World—Black Men and Public Space  112
Parts of the Self  113
Stages in the Development of the Self  113
The Self and Connections to the Meso Level  115

Socialization Throughout the Life Cycle  116
The Process of Resocialization  118

Agents of Socialization: The Micro-Meso Connection  118
The Applied Sociologist at Work—Jeffrey Breese: Role Exit and Resocialization: Researching Adults in the Midst of Change  119
Families: Micro-Level Socializing Agents  120
Sociology in Our Social World—Gender Socialization in American Public Schools  121
Social Class: Meso-Level Socialization  122
Sociology Around the World—Socialization in Japan: The Family and Early Schooling  123
Electronic Media: Meso-Level Agents Within the Home  124
Engaging Sociology: Media Exposure and Socialization  124

Socialization and Macro-Level Issues  125
Heterogeneous Societies and Sense of Self Versus “Other”  125
Sociology in Our Social World—Formal and Informal Agents of Socialization: A Comparison of Schooling, Television, and the Internet  126

Policy and Practice  128
What Have We Learned?  129
Key Points  129
Contributing to Our Social World: What Can We Do?  129

Chapter 5 • Interaction, Groups, and Organizations: Connections That Work  132

Networks and Connections in Our Social World  135
Networks at the Micro, Meso, and Macro Levels  135
Engaging Sociology—Networking via Facebook  137

The Process of Interaction: Connections at the Micro Level  138
The Elements of Social Interaction  138
Theoretical Perspectives on the Interaction Process  140
Rational Choice Theory  141
Symbolic Interaction Theory  141
Ethnomethodology  141
Dramaturgy  142
Family Life and Child-Rearing Patterns 216
Religious Membership 217
Political Behavior 217
Status Inconsistency 218

Social Mobility: The Micro-Meso Connection 218
Types of Social Mobility 219
How Much Mobility Is There? Measures of Social Mobility 219
Factors Affecting an Individual’s Mobility 220
Family Background, Socialization, and Education 220
Occupational Structure and Economic Vitality 221
Engaging Sociology—First-Generation College Students: Issues of Cultural Capital and Social Capital 222
Population Trends 224
Gender and Ethnicity 224
The Interdependent Global Market and International Events 224
Is There a “Land of Opportunity”? Cross-Cultural Mobility 224

Major Stratification Systems: Macro-Level Analysis 225
Sociology in Our Social World—Nickel-and-Dimed 226
Ascribed Status: Caste and Estate Systems 226
Sociology Around the World—The Outcastes of India 228
Achieved Status: Social Class Systems 229
The Property Factor 229
The Power Factor 230
The Prestige Factor 230
Social Classes in the United States 231

Poverty: Multilevel Determinants and Social Policy 232
Eliminating Poverty: Some Policy Considerations 234
Welfare and Other Aid Programs 234
Sociology in Our Social World—The Functions of Poverty: Why We Need Poor People 235
The Applied Sociologist at Work—Karen Schaumann: The Struggle for Welfare Rights in Michigan 236

National and Global Digital Divide: Macro-Level Stratification 237
The Global “Digital Divide” and Social Policy 238
What Have We Learned? 239
Key Points 239
Contributing to Our Social World: What Can We Do? 240

Chapter 8 • Race and Ethnic Group Stratification: Beyond “We” and “They” 242

What Characterizes Racial and Ethnic Groups? 246
Minority Groups 246
The Concept of Race 246
Origins of the Concept of Race 247
Sociology in Our Social World—Historical Attempts to Define Race 248
Social Construction of Race: Symbolic Interaction Analysis 249
The Significance of Race Versus Class 249
Ethnic Groups 251

Biracial and Multiracial Populations: Immigration, Intermarriage, and Personal Identification 252

Prejudice and Racism: Micro-Level Analysis 253
Prejudice 253
The Nature of Prejudice 254
Explanations of Prejudice 255
Racism 256

Discrimination: Meso-Level Analysis 257
Dominant and Minority Group Contact: Macro-Level Analysis 260
Theoretical Explanations of Dominant-Minority Group Relations 263
Conflict Theory 263
Sociology in Our Social World—Pluralism: A Long-Standing History in the United States 264
Structural-Functional Theory 265
Sociology in Our Social World—Violence in Kenya 266

The Effects of Prejudice, Racism, and Discrimination 267
The Costs of Racism 267
Minority Reactions to Prejudice, Discrimination, and Racism 268
Nonviolent Resistance: Institutional and Societal Policy for Change 269
The Applied Sociologist at Work—David Staddon: Native American Cultures and Applied Sociology in Business 270

Policies Governing Minority and Dominant Group Relations 271
Policies to Reduce Prejudice, Racism, and Discrimination 271
Individual or Small-Group Solutions 272
Group Contact 273
Institutional and Societal Strategies to Improve Group Relations 273
Affirmative Action 274
Global Movements for Human Rights 275
Engaging Sociology—Preference Policies at the University of Michigan 276
What Have We Learned? 277
Key Points 277
Contributing to Our Social World: What Can We Do? 278

Chapter 9 • Gender Stratification: She/He—Who Goes First? 280

Sex, Gender, and the Stratification System 282
Genetic, Cultural, and Structural Connections—and Divergences 284
Sex, Gender, and Sexuality: The Micro Level 286
Sex, Gender, and Sexuality: The Meso Level 287
Sociology Around the World—Micro Credits and Empowerment of Women 288
Sex, Gender, and Sexuality: The Macro Level 289
Gender Socialization: Micro- and Meso-Level Analyses  290
Stages in Gender Socialization  290
Infancy  290
Childhood  290
Sociology in Our Social World—The Boy Code  291
Meso-Level Agents of Gender Socialization  292
Corporations  292
Mass Media  294
Educational Systems  295
Religious Beliefs  296
Gender Stratification: Meso- and Macro-Level Processes  297
Engaging Sociology—Masculinity and Femininity in Your Social World  298
Women and Men at Work: Gendered Organizations  299
Institutionalized Gender Discrimination  299
Gender Differences in Internet Use  301
Gender Stratification: Micro- to Macro-Level Theories  302
Symbolic Interaction Theory: Micro-Level Analysis  302
Structural-Functional and Conflict Theories: Meso- and Macro-Level Analyses  303
Structural-Functional Theory  303
Conflict Theory  303
Feminist Theory  304
The Interaction of Class, Race, and Gender  305
Sociology in Our Social World—Rape and the Victims of Rape  306
Gender, Homosexuality, and Minority Status  307
Sociology Around the World—Dowry and Death: Some Dangers of Marriage  308
Costs and Consequences of Gender Stratification  309
Psychological and Social Consequences: Micro-Level Implications  309
Superwoman Image  309
Beauty Image  310
Societal Costs and Consequences: Meso- and Macro-Level Implications  310
Changing Gender Stratification and Social Policy  311
The Applied Sociologist at Work—Lynette Osborne: Gender Inequality and STEM  311
What Have We Learned?  314
Key Points  314
Contributing to Our Social World: What Can We Do?  314

Part IV. Institutions  315

Chapter 10 • Family: Partner Taking, People Making, and Contract Breaking  320

What Is a Family?  322
Engaging Sociology—The Ideal Family  323

Theoretical Perspectives on Family  325
Micro-Level Theories of Family and the Meso-Level Connection  325
Symbolic Interaction Theory  325
Rational Choice Theory  326
Photo Essay—Family Interactions  327
Meso- and Macro-Level Theories of the Family  328
Structural-Functional Theory  328
Conflict Theory  330
Feminist Theory  330

Family Dynamics: Micro-Level Processes  331
Mate Selection: How Do New Families Start?  331
Norms Governing Choice of Marriage Partners: Societal Rules and Intimate Choices  331
Finding a Mate  332
Who Holds the Power? Authority Relations in Marriage  334
Decision Making in Marriage  334
Who Does the Housework?  335
Engaging Sociology—Household Maintenance by Gender  335

The Family as an Institution:
Meso-Level Analysis  336
The Structure and Parts of Family as an Institution  336
Types of Marriages  336
Extended and Nuclear Families  337
The Economic Institution and the Family  338
Poverty and Families in the United States  338
Dual-Worker Families  339

National and Global Family Issues:
Macro-Level Analysis  340
Cohabitation  340
Sociology in Our Social World—Cohabiting: Facts and Fiction  341
Same-Sex Relationships and Civil Unions  342
Divorce: Contract Breaking  343
Sociology in Our Social World—The Top Ten Myths of Divorce  344
Divorce and Its Social Consequences  345

Marriage, Divorce, and Social Policies  347
Global Family Patterns and Policies  347
Sociology Around the World—Cross-Cultural Differences in Family Dissolution  348
National Family Patterns and Policies in the United States  349
The Applied Sociologist at Work—Steven L. Nock: Covenant Marriage  349

What Have We Learned?  350
Key Points  350
Contributing to Our Social World: What Can We Do?  351

Chapter 11 • Education: What Are We Learning?  352

State of the World’s Education: An Overview  354
The Ins and Outs of Local Schools: Micro-Level Interactions in Educational Organizations  355
Micro-Level Theories About Individuals
Within Schools 355
Symbolic Interaction Perspective and the Classroom 355
Rational Choice Theory and Educational Settings 357
Statutes and Roles in the Educational System 358
Students and the Peer Culture of Schools 358
Teachers: The Front Line 359
Sociology in Our Social World—Where the Boys Are: A Gender Gap 360
Photo Essay—Student and Teacher Roles 361
Administrators: The Managers of the School System 362
The Informal System: What Really Happens Inside a School? 362
Educational Climate of Schools 363
Value Climate of Schools 364
Power Dynamics and Coping Strategies in the Classroom 365

After the School Bell Rings: Meso-Level Analysis of Educational Organizations 367
Formal Education Systems 367
The Bureaucratic School Structure 368
Education and the Social Institution of Family 369
Educational Decision Making at the Meso Level 369
Local-Level Influences 370
National-Level Influences 370
Sociology in Our Social World: Disability and Inequality 371

Education, Society, and the Road to Opportunity: Education at the Macro Level 373
Why Societies Have Educational Systems: Macro-Level Theories 373
Functionalist Perspective on the Purposes of Education 374
Conflict Perspectives on Stratification and Education 375
Engaging Sociology—Consequences of High or Low Numbers of Bachelor's Degrees 376
Can Schools Bring About Equality in Societies? 377
Who Gets Ahead and Why? The Role of Education in Stratification 378
Sources of Inequality 378
Engaging Sociology—Test Score Variations by Gender and Ethnicity 379
Public and Private Schools 381

Educational and Social Policy Issues 382
Educational Policies in the United States 383
Providing Early-Childhood Education 383
The Applied Sociologist at Work—Geoffrey Canada: Harlem Children's Zone 384
Global Policy Issues in Education 384
Education of Girls Around the Globe 385
The Future of Education in the Global System 386
Sociology Around the World—Distance Education: Breaking Access Barriers? 387

Chapter 12 • Religion: The Meaning of Sacred Meaning 390

What Does Religion Do for Us? 392
Components of Religion 393
Meaning System 393
Belonging System 394
Structural System 394
The Applied Sociologist at Work—C. Kirk Hadaway: Research for Religious Organizations 395

How Do Individuals Become Religious? Micro-Level Analysis 396
Symbols and the Creation of Meaning: A Symbolic Interactionist Perspective 398
 Seeking Eternal Benefits: A Rational Choice Perspective 401

Religion and Modern Life: Meso-Level Analysis 402
Religion and Other Social Institutions 402
Religion and Family 403
Religion and Politics: Theocracies and Civil Religion 404
Sociology Around the World—Transnational Religion: The Catholic Church and Political Systems 405
Religion and the Economy: The Protestant Ethic and Capitalism 406
Types of Religious Associations 408
The Ecclesia 408
Sociology in Our Social World—Islam, Mosques, and Organizational Structure 409
Denominations 409
Sects 411
New Religious Movements (NRMs) or Cults 412

Religion in Society: Macro-Level Analysis 413
The Contribution of Religion to Society: A Functionalist Perspective 413
Social Cohesion 413
Legitimating Social Values and Norms 413
Sociology in Our Social World—Witchcraft in the United States 414
Sociology in Our Social World—Red Sex, Blue Sex 415
Social Change 415
The Link Between Religion and Stratification: A Conflict Perspective 416
The Class Base of Religion 416
Racial Bias, Gender Prejudice, and Religion 417
Engaging Sociology—Gender and Spirituality 418

Religion in the Modern World 420
Is Religion Dying or Revitalizing in North America? 420
Engaging Sociology—Determining What It Means to Be "Religious" 422
Religion and Secularization: Micro-, Meso-, and Macro-Level Discord 422
Photo Essay—Secularization and Faith in Context 424
Religion: Contributor to War or Peace? 425
Religion, Technology, and the World Wide Web 426

Social Policy: The Homosexuality Debates 427
What Have We Learned? 429
Key Points 429
Contributing to Our Social World: What Can We Do? 430
Chapter 13 • Politics and Economics: Penetrating Power and Privilege 432

What Is Power? 435
Power and Privilege at Various Levels in the Social World 435

Theoretical Perspectives on Systems of Power and Privilege 436
Micro- and Meso-Level Perspectives: Legitimacy of Power 436
Sociology in Our Social World—The Flag, Symbolism, and Patriotism 437
Legitimacy, Authority, and Power: Social Constructions 438
How Do Leaders Gain Legitimate Power? 438
Macro-Level Perspectives: Who Rules? 439
Pluralist Theory 439
Elite Theory 440

Micro-Level Analysis: Individuals, Power, and Participation 441
Participation in Democratic Processes 441
Ideology and Attitudes About Politics and Economics 441
The Applied Sociologist at Work—Ruy Teixeira: The Future of Red, Blue, and Purple America 442
Levels of Participation in Politics 444

Meso-Level Analysis: Distributions of Power and Privilege Within a Nation 444
Sociology Around the World—Women and Political Change in Postgenocide Rwanda 445
What Purposes Do Political and Economic Institutions Serve? 446
Sociology in Our Social World—The Youth Vote in the U.S. Presidential Election of 2008 447

Meso- and Macro-Level Systems of Power and Privilege 449
Types of Political Systems 450
Sociology Around the World—The Khmer Rouge Revolution: A Totalitarian Regime 451
Technology and Democracy 452
Types of Economic Systems 453

Macro-Level Analysis: National and Global Systems of Governance and Power 456
Power and the Nation-State 456
Revolutions and Rebellions 456
The Meso-Macro Political Connection 457
Sociology Around the World—Social Networking and Political Protests 458
Global Interdependencies and Politics 461
Engaging Sociology—Political Decisions: Social Processes at the Micro, Meso, and Macro Levels 461
Violence on the Global Level 462
Why Do Nations Go to War? 463
How Can Nations Avoid War? 464
Terrorism 466

What Have We Learned? 468

Chapter 14 • Medicine: An Anatomy of Health and Illness 470

Why Is Health a Social Issue? 473
Health at the Micro Level 474
Health at the Meso Level 474
Health at the Macro Level 474

Theoretical Perspectives on Health and Illness 476
Micro-Level Theoretical Perspectives 476
The Symbolic Interaction Perspective and Labeling Theory 476
Meso- and Macro-Level Theoretical Perspectives 476
Sociology in Our Social World—Alcoholism, Medicalization, and Policy 477
The Functionalist Perspective 478
The Conflict Perspective 478
Feminist Theory 479
Sociology Around the World—Health Care: Cuba's Pride 480

The Status and Roles of the Sick Person: Micro-Level Analysis 482
The Sick Role 482
Social Factors in Illness and Health 484

Modern Health Care Systems: Meso-Level Analysis 487
The Organization of Health Care Systems 487
Types of National Health Care Systems 487
Hospitals as Complex Organizations 488
Changing Professional Status of Employees in the Health Care System 489
Photo Essay—Clothing and Status in the Hospital 490
The Applied Sociologist at Work—James Anderson: The Case of Nurse Burnout 491

Health Care Issues at National and Global Levels: Macro-Level Analysis 492
The Health Care System in the United States 492
Health Care Advances 492
Problems in the U.S. Health Care System 493
Sociology in Our Social World—The Social Transformation of American Medicine 496
Policy Issues and Social Reforms in the U.S. System 497
Sociology Around the World—Comparing Health Care Systems: The Canadian Model 498
Health Care Around the Globe 499
The People's Republic of China: Medicine in a Communist State 499

Engaging Sociology—Access to Health Care for Rich and Poor 500
Globalization of Medical Problems 501