
Detailed Contents

Preface	xv
Acknowledgments	xxiii
PART I: TRADITIONS AND INFLUENCES	I
Chapter 1. Introduction and Overview of the Field	3
Definitions and Illustrative Examples	7
Background and History	9
Some Basic Comparisons Between Quantitative and Qualitative Research	12
Mixed Methods Research Approaches	15
Ten Critical Elements of Qualitative Research	17
1. Description, Understanding, and Interpretation of Human Behavior	17
2. Dynamic	17
3. No Single Way of Doing Something	18
4. Inductive Thinking	19
5. Holistic	19
6. Variety of Data in Natural Settings	20
7. Role of the Researcher	21
8. In-Depth Study	22
9. Words, Themes, and Writing	22
10. Nonlinear	23
Additional Issues	24
Objectivity as Fiction	24
Critical Role of the Researcher	25
Role of Those Studied	25
The Nature of Reality (Ontology)	25
Values and Ethics (Axiology)	25
Understanding How Various Paradigms Can Accommodate Each Other	26
The Role Action Plays in Research	26
Issues About Who Is in Control	26
Self-Reflection	27
Challenge of Doing Qualitative Research	27

Summary	28
Group Activity	28
Individual Activity	28
Student Study Site	28
References	29

Chapter 2. Learning How to Be a Qualitative Researcher 31

General Ideas	33
So You Want to Be a Qualitative Researcher	35
Qualitative Topics and Questions	37
Getting Started	40
Practice Study 1	41
Practice Study 2	42
Summary	46
Group Activity	46
Individual Activity	46
Student Study Site	47
References	47

Chapter 3. Ethical Issues in Qualitative Research 49

Ethical Behavior: Definitions and Background	51
Major Principles Associated With Ethical Conduct	52
Problems With the Standards	56
Alleged Misconduct in the General Scientific Community	56
Misconduct in the Qualitative Research Arena	58
Special Problems for the Qualitative Researcher	58
Studying Vulnerable Participants	61
Setting and Maintaining Standards	62
Problems With Review Boards	64
Summary	66
Individual Activity	66
Student Study Site	67
References	67

Chapter 4. Designing Your Research: Five Popular Research Approaches 69

Ethnography: Studying Cultures	72
Introduction	73
History and Meaning of Anthropology and Ethnography	73
Issues Related to Ethnography	74
Examples From the Field	76
Words of Caution	76
Grounded Theory: Placing Theory in Its Context	78
Introduction	78

History and Meaning of Grounded Theory	79
Issues Related to Grounded Theory	80
Examples From the Field	81
Words of Caution	82
Our Lived Experiences: Phenomenological Inquiry as a Philosophy and Method	83
Introduction	83
History and Meaning of Phenomenology	84
Phenomenology in Today's World	85
Phenomenology as a Philosophy and as a Method	87
Issues Related to Phenomenology	89
Examples From the Field	89
Words of Caution	90
Case Study: A Look at the Particular	90
Introduction	90
History and Meaning of Case Studies	91
Issues Related to Case Studies	92
Examples From the Field	93
Words of Caution	94
Narrative Inquiry Approaches	95
Introduction	95
History and Meaning of Narrative	95
Issues Related to Narrative Approaches	96
Examples From the Field	97
Words of Caution	97
Summary	98
Group Activity	98
Individual Activity	98
Student Study Site	98
References	99

Chapter 5. Designing Your Research: Additional Research Approaches

103

Mixed Methods	104
Introduction	104
History and Meaning of Mixed Methods	105
Issues Related to Mixed Methods	105
Examples From the Field	106
Words of Caution	106
Autoethnography	107
Introduction, History, and Meaning of Autoethnography	108
Issues Related to Autoethnography	108
Examples From the Field	108
Words of Caution	109

Feminist Research and Feminist Theory	109
Introduction	109
History and Meaning of Feminist Research	110
Issues Related to Feminist Research	110
Examples From the Field	111
Words of Caution	113
Postmodernism and Critical Theory Research	113
Generic Approach to Qualitative Research	114
Selecting a Research Method or Approach	116
Putting Ideas Into Practice	116
Summary	118
Group Activity	118
Individual Activity	118
Student Study Site	119
References	119

PART II: GATHERING, ORGANIZING, AND ANALYZING 123

Chapter 6. Social Media, the Internet, and Technology 125

What Is Social Media or Social Networking?	126
Definitions	126
Familiar Social Networking Sites	127
Advances in Technology	127
Definitions	127
Internet Tools	128
Types of Hardware	131
Definitions	131
Popular Devices	131
Impact of Social Media	132
Privacy, Ethics, and Informed Consent	133
Ways to Use Tools	133
Virtual Learning	133
Examples of Research Using Hardware and Tools	134
Summary	135
Group Activity	135
Individual Activity	135
Student Study Site	135
References	135

Chapter 7. Embarking on Qualitative Research 137

Twenty Questions	138
My Life as a Graduate Student	141
Phase 1: Getting Started	141
Phase 2: Modeling Good Practices	142
Phase 3: Practicing Interviewing and Debriefing	143
Phase 4: Conducting Outside Interviews	144

Phase 5: Doing Preliminary Analyses as a Group 149
Phase 6: Doing Analyses as an Individual 150
Phase 7: Preparing Individual Papers 150

Summary 154
Group Activity 154
Individual Activity 155
Student Study Site 155
References 155

Chapter 8. Reflexivity and Subjectivity 157

Personal Journey 160
Role of Self 163
Reflexivity 164
Self-Awareness and Growth 165
Summary 166
Individual Activity 167
Student Study Site 167
References 167

Chapter 9. The Role and Function of a Literature Review 169

What Is a Literature Review? 172
Connections Between the Literature and New Research 174
Importance of a Literature Review 174
Theory in Qualitative Research 175
Sources of Literature for a Review 176
Steps in Conducting a Literature Review 176
 1. Identifying and Limiting the Research Topic 177
 2. Locating What Is Out There 178
 3. Deciding What Is Relevant and Critical 179
 4. Critiquing Qualitative Research 179
 5. Sorting, Selecting, and Organizing the Information 179
 6. Writing the Review 180
Examples From the Field 180
Practical Suggestions for Keeping Track 184
Summary 184
Group Activity 185
Individual Activity 185
Student Study Site 185
References 185

Chapter 10. Learning About Others Through Interviewing 187

Individual Interviewing 190
 The Purpose of Interviewing 190
 General Issues in Interviewing 192

In-Depth Interviewing	195
The Interview Process	195
Types of Questions	197
Questioning Strategies to Use	200
Questioning Strategies to Avoid	202
Developing an Interview Guide	203
Dos and Don'ts of In-Depth Interviewing	205
Focus Group Interviewing	206
Purpose of Focus Group Interviewing	207
Issues Regarding Focus Groups	208
Example of a Focus Group Interview	210
Online Interviewing	211
Purpose of Online Interviewing	212
Preparing for an Online Interview	212
Issues and Challenges With Online Interviewing	213
Types of Online Interviews	213
Special Issues Regarding Interviewing	214
Checklist for Conducting Face-to-Face Interviews	216
Summary	217
Group Activity	217
Individual Activity	218
Student Study Site	218
References	218

Chapter 11. Learning About Others Through Observations and Other Techniques

221

Observing in Natural Settings	223
Purpose of Observations	224
Issues Regarding Observations	225
How to Conduct an Observation	226
Examples of Observations	228
Existing Writing, Writing by Others, Writing You Generate	231
Purpose of Written Material	231
Issues Regarding Written Material	232
Extracting the Essence	233
Images and Visuals	233
Purpose of Images	234
Examples of Image Usage	234
Issues Regarding Images	235
Mapping—A Particular Type of Visual	235
Summary	236
Group Activity	236
Individual Activity	237
Student Study Site	237
References	237

PART III: PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER 239

Chapter 12. Making Meaning From Your Data 241

Introduction 244
What Is Qualitative Data? 247
When to Do Your Analysis 247
Gaining Meaning: Themes or Narratives 248
Conducting an Analysis for Central Themes 250
 Getting Started 250
 Preparing and Organizing Your Data 251
 Reviewing and Recording Your Thoughts 251
 The Three Cs: Coding, Categorizing, and Concepts 251
 Strengthening the Process 255
Analysis of Narratives 256
Qualitative Research Approaches 257
Qualitative Analysis Techniques or Procedures 258
What About Transcribing? 260
How to Know When You Are Finished 261
Philosophical Stance 262
Data Analysis With Computers 262
Other Issues 264
Summary 265
Group Activity 266
Individual Activity 266
Student Study Site 266
References 266

Chapter 13. Communicating Your Ideas 269

First Steps 271
Guidelines for Writing and Presenting Qualitative Research 272
 Your Audience: What Do They Expect? 272
 What Are You Trying to Say? 273
 The First Person 273
 General Guidelines for Writing 274
 The Voices of Others 274
 Writing With Others 275
 The Use of Metaphors 275
 Creative Nonfiction 277
 Fiction 279
 Structure—A Good Thing 279
Writing a Qualitative Research Proposal 282
Student Examples of Qualitative Writing 284
Summary 286
Group Activity 286
Individual Activity 287

Student Study Site 287
References 287

Chapter 14. Judging and Evaluating 291

Personal Criteria 294
 Researcher's Role: Revealing the Self and Other Connection 295
 Convincing Arguments: What Was Studied and What Was Found 295
 Rich in Detail: How the Study Was Done 296
 Communication: How Convincing Is the Presentation? 297
What Others Have to Say 297
 Prior to 1990 298
 The 1990s 298
 The Early 2000s 299
 Current Thinking 302
 Journal and Editorial Board Criteria 304
Summary 304
Group Activity 304
Individual Activity 305
Student Study Site 305
References 305

Chapter 15. Thinking About the Future 307

Flourishing Creative Juices 308
Taking Risks 310
Exploring More Qualitative Dissertations 310
Determining Whether It Is “Good Enough” 311
Keeping Up With the Explosion 311
Greater Access and Availability 312
Politics and Qualitative Research 313
Sustained Growth, Yet Skepticism 314
Social Media—Here to Stay 314
New Ideas 314
Greater Acceptance 315
About Theory and Practice 315
Journals With a Qualitative Focus 316
Student Study Site 318
References 318

Glossary 321

Index 327

About the Author 341